Dear Parents and Carers,

Next week we will be sending home details of how to book your parent's evening online appointments. We will also be sharing with parents and carers an interim attainment report based on the latest teacher assessments of your child in Reading, Writing and Maths and for children in KS2, results from their most recent testing. Hopefully these will help support you in the conversation that you have during your parent's evening appointment and will help you and the class teacher to work together to look at what further progress will look like for your child across the rest of the academic year.

Our special Valentine's lunch menu is available to book via School Money. This will take place on Thursday 10th February. See below details for the menu choices available.

Next week is Children's Mental Health week. We will be taking part in 'Walk and Talk' where all the children are encouraged to walk a mile in school and talk to raise awareness. Children will be issued with special wrist bands on completion of their mile and a certificate given to every class.

I hope you all have a good weekend.

Street Tag Update

Another great week of being active by our street taggers. We are still extending our lead and with only a few days to go until the end of this session it is looking very promising.

This week's top tip: Don't forget, if you visit an area where there are no tags you have the ability to set your own in order to gain more points.

Community Ambassadors

Our Community Ambassador team have so many things planned that we have expanded! Welcome and congratulations to our newest ambassadors:

Toula Duckett
Maddie Coulter
Hannah Goldstone

We know that you will bring some great contributions to the group and look forward to working with you.

World Book Day

This year, with restrictions less likely, we are looking forward to celebrating World Book Day in style. As part of this event, we are inviting children to dress up as their favourite book character. There will be a range of book-themed activities throughout the day, including the return of the very popular 'Masked Reader.'

World Book Day is on 3rd March so this hopefully gives plenty of time for you and your child to plan a suitable costume.
